VOL. 2--NO. 115.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1883.

PRICE ONE CENT.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

There is still plenty of snow and good sleighing in Canada.

VINCENNES, Ind., and St. Louis, are both suffering from a smallpox scare.

M. B. PERKINS & Co., of Canton, Ohio, stationers and book sellers, have failed.

The Jennette Board of Inquiry have closed their labors and will render their report.

ELLINGTON JUNCTION, a village near Warsaw, Wis., has been almost entirely destroyed by fire.

Work on the Potomac flats, at Washington is to be pushed with vigor as soon as the weather will permit.

JOHN MURPHY, a printer, and James Leonard, a moulder, were killed by a freight train near Alliance, Ohio.

At Helena, Mont., Henry Fuhrmann has been sentenced to hang May 2 for the murder of his son-in-law, Jacob Keach.

INSTRUCTIONS, "how to use explosives" from O'Donovan Rossa, were found upon the person of Dennis Deasy, arrested in Ireland last Thursday.

The President has deferred his trip to Florida until Friday. It is therefore thought he will name the new Postmaster General before his departure.

The statement is denied that there is a defensive triple alliance which has Italy, Germany and Austria on the one side against France on the other. Such an agreement is in existence, but has not been put into documentary shape.

It is rumored that the Cincinnati Gazette and Commercial will dissolve partnership, and that the old Gazette will be revived again by the truly good Deason, and that the Field Marshal will remain at the helm of the Commercial as of old.

A divorce was granted at St. Louis, yesterday, to the husband of Kate R. Tevis, who shot his wife's paramour, Inglehart, on the street last November, Tevis having detected them coming out of a house of ill-repute together. Mrs. Tevis is a niece of General W. T. Sherman.

MIKE McLAUGHLIN and Martin Linksy, both aged eighteen years, having quarreled, agreed to settle their trouble according to prize ring rules, and met yesterday at Duboise, in the lumber regions of Jefferson county, Pa., for that purpose. At the close of the sixth round Linksy fell down and broke his neck. McLaughlin surrendered himself to the authorities.

TEVIS-INGLEHART SCANDAL.

The Injured Husband Granted a Divorce at St. Louis Yesterday.

St. Louis, April 4.—The scandal in which Kate R. Tevis, the niece of General W. T. Sherman, figured as the principal, was brought to the surface again yesterday by the granting of a divorce to the injured husband. There were few people, lawyers or others, in the room at the time, and the witnesses placed on the stand spoke so low that it was difficult for anybody but the clerk to hear the testimony. It was understood that the wife would offer no resistance to the divorce, but she was represented by Judge Madill, to see that nothing was done beyond what was absolutely required to obtain the decree.

The Potomac Flats.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The work on the Potomac flats will be pushed ahead with vigor as soon as the weather is such that there can be uninterrupted progress. The contractor has met with many obstacles. The deposit taken from above the long bridge is found to be of the consistency of putty, and when dumped on the flats will not spread of itself over the surface of the ground. To overcome this the contractor may have to erect a boiler and use hose, the water to be forced by steam upon the deposit, so as to wash it over the surface. For the reason that the deposit is so consistent the contractor recently met an obstacle in the failure of the cars he had built to dump the loads. This has now been overcome.

Fall of a Pious Young Man.

CHARDON, O., April 4.—W. H. Ballantine, a member of the Methodist Church, and a school teacher, was arrested this morning on a charge of stealing. He had in his possession when arrested five suits of clothes, gold rings, silver spoons, watches, revolvers, and other things belonging to storekeepers in the place. He is prominently connected, and always bore the name of an upright, honest youth.

The Triple Alliance Denied.

ROME, April 4.—A denial comes from official Government sources of the statement that a defensive triple alliance has been entered into with Italy, Germany and Austria on the one side, against France on the other. It is nevertheless certain that an agreement is in existence, the terms of which are about the same as already outlined, but it has not as yet been put in any formal or documentary shape.

Presidential Bureaus.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Critic says it is asserted by a wide-awake politician that Presidential bureaus are in operation in Washington in behalf of Senators Sherman, Pendleton, Hawley, Bayard, Logan, ex-Senator Windom and Governor Foster.

THE COUNTRY'S POOR.

A Tale of Horror That is Almost Incredible.

Paupers Robbed of Their Clothing, Starved to Death and Buried Without Ceremony. After Which Comes the Resurrectionist.

Boston, April 4.—The testimony of Chas. H. Dudley, before the Legislative Committee, fully corroborates the charges made by Governor Butler in his annual message. Dudley said the dead house was robbed by Assistant Superintendent Marsh. Dudley also said that he saw a light in the trunk room several times after the inmates had retired. Going in quietly one night he saw Marsh's wife open paupers' trunks and take clothing from them. Mrs. Pope, the housekeeper, told him she had seen the same thing, and the most valuable dresses were taken by Mrs. Marsh to her private room and made over for the Davis girls, her relatives. The witness told of some twenty children who used to cry at night because of hunger. They were placed at the table with the other inmates and had to look out for themselves. One night, out of curiosity, he went to the burying ground and saw four bodies resurrected and driven off toward Boston.

The state of the food for the inmates of the Alms House and Insane was always very poor and the quantity small. The bread was sour nearly all the time. A man who drove the hospital team told him he had taken up sixty-eight bodies in eight months.

The man was dissatisfied then, but the next day he showed "a few hundred," which he said Tom (Marsh) had given him. The witness was afterward appointed with his wife to the care of the female insane. The beds were of straw, in a rotten condition, and insufficient clothing. Most of the women were without underclothes or shoes or stockings. They had only calico dresses. This was in July. The cells were in a filthy condition. In a cell in the attic he found a woman on the straw perfectly naked. The straw was bad and filthy.

He was told that this woman had been in this cell a year. She was so violently insane she would tear her clothes. She was so near a skeleton she could not have weighed more than forty pounds. His wife clothed her, and he had the room cleaned out. She had had only one meal a day carried to her by an idiotic girl who said she had always taken care of the old woman. He allowed her to continue doing so, but found that she threw the food away and came back with an empty plate, telling him the woman had eaten all. He then carried the food, and the assistant took it into the room. In five or six weeks they had her out of the cell and down into the sitting room, so changed that her own husband did not know her. There was another woman who told me she had been kept nine days in one of the filthy basement cells with nothing but water, and her story was corroborated by others. They said she was very violent and was kept there to reduce her strength so they could manage her. That woman was with us for a year and we never had occasion to use any such remedies. The insane women were employed at all kinds of work, including the care of patients who might be afflicted with contagious disease. I spoke to Marsh about it and his reply was that an insane person could not take a disease. I told him our women were so worked their food was insufficient, and his reply on at least three occasions was that they were brought there to die. Dr. Lathrop used to come to the building about once a week. One night after we retired one of the thirty-seven women in one of the dormitories fell out of bed and hurt herself. I got my wife and went up. My wife said she was bleeding, and thought she was dead. The blood was gushing out of her mouth. I sent my wife for Dr. Lathrop. She came back and said that Dr. Lathrop complained that he was tired, and it would do no good for him to come. I went and told him that I thought she was dead from internal hemorrhage. He said he could not do any good, and told me and my wife to lay her out. Then he said the watchman and wife would do. I got them. We found the woman dead, and we took her down stairs and laid her out in my room. Next day no one came to see about the body, and when I went to Dr. Lathrop, he said he forgot all about it, but I could get some inmates to help me dispose of it.

Speaking of the treatment of infants, Dudley said: "At night they were in charge of an inmate. One night I said to her she didn't seem to have so much trouble with the babies, as they seemed to be quiet all night. She said she had found out a way to keep them quiet. She took down a bottle and said that when they got troublesome she gave them three or four drops of it and they were quiet all night. I asked her what it was, and she said she didn't know. It was something the day nurse used. I smelled it and found it to be morphine. She said she was put there for punishment, and was determined to make her work as easy as she could. I asked if she knew the power of the stuff. She said she knew nothing, and didn't care. I told her it was liable to kill some of them. Out of the seventy-three babies that were born there and that were brought in during the first year we were there, only one was alive at the end of the year—a very peculiar child."

The Governor: "I should think he was." Witness: "After they died, I used to see a man, 'Tim,' with a small box under his arm going from the house to the dead house. I think that was what they carried the dead babies in. They never had any service over the dead during my term there. A man, whose expenses were paid by a benevolent lady of Boston, and came there as a sort of missionary, said to me one day: 'This is a very healthy place. I have been here about three weeks, and you haven't had any deaths here?' I said: 'Yes, we have,' for I had known of more than a dozen. He said: 'That is strange. I am an official to take charge of funeral services.' I said: 'You don't seem to be in the right places. If you are really in earnest, and wish to officiate at a funeral, place yourself between the house and gate almost any night, and you will have an opportunity—that is, provided they will wait for you.' The testimony was not stricken out on cross-examination.

A Failure at Canton, O.

CANTON, O., April 4.—M. R. Perkins & Co., book sellers and stationery, in business twelve years, have failed. Liabilities from $10,000 to $20,000; assets nominal.

THE POOR QUESTION.

Germany's Decree Not so Bad After All.

NEW YORK, April 4.—If the Western papers are not inaccurate in their statistics, although the prohibition of American pork in Germany on the ground of trichinosis infection appears to be a very destructive measure as regards the export of that commodity, it is not in reality likely to prove injurious to any great extent to the interests of hog-raisers and pork-pickers in this country. As published, the decree comprises sides, bacon, ham, sausages and the flesh of the animal in all forms of preparation, but it is understood not to include lard, although a question may hereafter arise on that point, and Western manufacturers should not congratulate themselves too soon. If the exception as respects lard should prove correct, however, the new legislation will not seriously embarrass the ordinary course of trade, for, with the exception of that article, our direct export to Germany of the products of the slaughter and packing house is not very important. While, for illustration, our total shipment to foreign markets of bacon and hams last year amounted to nearly $47,000,000, and our shipment of salt pork to about $7,000,000, Germany took the value of less than half a million of dollars in the three articles combined. In the matter of five swine, the German demand amounted to less than the petty sum of five hundred dollars—that is, practically nothing; but, in compensation for the small trade in live stock, more than one-fifth of all the lard exported from the United States was consumed by the people from over the Rhine, whose call for the article was represented by $55,500,000. If, then, this commodity has been excepted from the proscription, our people can afford to laugh at the decree in its present form, as it will only lead to a larger demand for American lard in England, to be repacked, relabeled, and sent to Germany as the genuine English product—a trick of trade that already causes considerable capital and industry English centres of export, and will receive a new impulse from the ill-considered measure of Bismarck and the Bundesrath.

Mutinous Prisoners.

CHESTER PRISON, ILL., April 4.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon four convicts attempted to escape. Wm. McCormick, serving a five years' sentence for violation of the postal laws, was shot through the upper part of the right leg; James Rogers, in for the same offense, was shot in the shoulder, and another was shot and slightly wounded. All were speedily captured and placed in solitary confinement. The tumult lasted ten minutes.

Gas Explosion and Fatal Fire.

CHICAGO, April 4.—A San Francisco dispatch says that a terrible gas explosion occurred yesterday afternoon in the basement of the Palace Hotel. In the fire which followed Commissioner Edwards and Assistant Engineer Ross were fatally and twelve persons seriously burned.

Floods in Utah.

SALT LAKE, April 4.—The floods in Bear Lake Valley have washed out six bridges on the Oregon Short Line, temporarily impeding the running of trains, but will soon be repaired. The first through train on the Rio Grande brings 200 Mormon converts.

Killed at the Polls.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Mason Pointer stabbed George Young at Roundtree at the closing of the polls last night, the latter dying. Both colored. An election row.

Rossa's Instructions Found.

LIVERPOOL, April 4.—It is stated that letters from O'Donovan Rossa have been found in the possession of Dennis Deasy, who was arrested here on Thursday, giving instructions respecting the use of explosives.

LOUISE MICHEL TALKS RESURRECTED GAZETTE

"Over the Ruins of France the Red Flag Will Wave."

The Socialists Will Not Affiliate With Monarchists—The Latter Joining the Ranks of the Socialists to Destroy Their Influence.

PARIS, April 4.—Through an unwonted act of courtesy by a high police official, your correspondent was last evening enabled to see Louise Michel in the prison of St. Lazare, and to obtain some very decided expressions of her plans and purposes. The correspondent first asked "What was your object in remaining in hiding in this city until last Friday night? Was it that you were afraid of arrest?" "Afraid!" exclaimed Louise Michel, "I am not afraid of anything that the police or their masters can do. My life is pledged to the work, and whenever it is necessary that it shall be sacrificed, I am ready. But I do not mean that it shall be sacrificed in vain. My friends have all along dissuaded me from presenting myself, as I had intended to long ago, because they said my liberty was necessary for the work of the party."

"What caused you to change your mind and give yourself up to the police?" "It was solely on account of my mother. It was killing her to be hounded from one lodging to another; to be dogged by spies whenever she set foot in the street. There were many different kinds of spies, and they were in many different kinds of dress, but there were always spies and spies and spies. I could not bear it, and I came here."

"It has been stated, and on high official authority, that there is a very good understanding between the Socialist and at least some sections of the Monarchists."

"It is as false as all that the Government orators say. They are paid to lie about us, and they earn their money well. Let me tell you this, that the red flag will never accept the white banner nor the vice-stained lilies for its allies. Why, the very reason that the people of this brave Paris have not already swelled our ranks to hundreds of thousands is because they have detected in our demonstrations some Monarchists."

"How did they get there?" "How? I can tell you that. They were not put there as our friends found them there. We refused to march with them. They were put there by some of our enemies. How can I tell by which ones. But this I know: they were put there to discredit us."

"If you are acquitted of the charge on which you are now held, what will you do next?"

"Then I will leave France and preach the social crusade from abroad. I do not see why Princes should have the monopoly of conspiring against the Government from foreign lands."

"Then you regard your work as a conspiracy against the established order of things?"

"Certainly I do, and that conspiracy is legitimate. It is a conspiracy of the oppressed against their oppressors. Believe me, the definite triumph of the cause I serve is but a question of a few months. I might almost say of days. The economical crisis which is drawing near will shake the old tripartite world with such irresistible force that it will fall, and over its ruins the red flag will be seen waving."

MURDERING MEXICANS.

Bloody Band of Apaches on the War-path in Sonora.

SANTA FE, April 4.—Hermosillo advises state that there is not a single Apache in Sonora. The last were driven across the Arizona line Saturday, about 200 strong. Generals Crook and Carbo have been in consultation by telegraph for hours. It is thought Mexican troops will co-operate in Arizona. Word has been received from General Forsythe that he has lost the trail in the Chihuahuas Mountains. Nothing has been heard from Captain Black for four days, and fears that he has been ambushed are felt. A pack train with supplies left yesterday with orders to follow his trail.

Large bodies of Apaches have been working to the south from Magdalena, Sonora, and on both sides of the railroad for two weeks. They moved deliberately north in the direction of Arizona, and are now across the line, evidently making for a point a short distance west from Tucson. They operated in detached parties and kill all the Mexicans they come in contact with. One report from below fixes the number of people killed so far at forty-one and another at fifty-two.

An immense number of horses have been taken, and cattle and stock of all kinds wantonly killed.

They Were Both Killed.

ALLIANCE, O., April 3.—Last night, two men, John Murphy, a printer, and James Leonard, molder, both residents of Salem Columbiana county, O., were run over and instantly killed by a freight train on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, between Alliance and Salem. Both were single men.

The Commercial Gazette May Divide Itself.

And the Good Deacon Trot Out the Deceased Gazette—The Harmony of and Prosperity Which Have Failed to Materialize.

CINCINNATI, O., April 4.—The influences which originally brought the Commercial and Gazette into such strange fellowship have not, from surface indications, continued to exert a soothing spell over the fortunes of the consolidated concern. There has not been that enthusiastic extension of financial support from the admirers of the old Gazette which the managers fondly hoped, or deceived themselves into believing, would be poured into the coffers of the consolidated representatives of Republicanism on the one hand, and the personal organ of the Field Marshal on the other extreme. For some reason the merging process has not seemed to impress the friends and patrons of the old Gazette favorably, and the result has been not one filled with financial blessing.

The latest rumor, and one that is seemingly in accordance with preconceived opinions regarding the eventual termination of this newspaper mixture, has it that Richard Smith is sadly grieved over the position in which he now finds himself and the property which he represented in the good will of the Gazette, and that he will endeavor to sever his connection with the consolidated concern, and attempt to revive the Gazette. He has been urged to do this, it is said, by prominent Republicans in all parts of the State, and letters and personal visits insisting upon such a step are encouragingly numerous. He is, moreover, inclined to consider such suggestions from the fact that he and Mr. Halstead cannot or do not dwell in harmony and peace. Mr. Smith is ostensibly the business manager, and naturally seeks to retain some of the old and trusted attaches of the Gazette in appointing his business aids; but the abrupt dismissal of such men by Halstead without explanation or consultation with the Deacon has stirred the Gazette blood of the latter into turbulent streams of wrathful gore. Deacon Reed and the two K's will go with the Deacon in the event of carrying out the revival of the Gazette.

The Friendship of England and America.

LONDON, April 4.—At the Easter banquet of the Lord Mayor Mr. Lowell, the United States Minister, in a speech referred to the amicable relations existing between England and America. He returned thanks for the hospitality shown him both by public officials and private parties, and which made London such a agreeable place to reside in. A speech-maker's lot, however, was not a happy one, being obliged to avoid words with a mean meaning, but he believed that no child would overshadow the cordial relations now existing between England and America, so important for the peace and well-being of mankind generally.

South Carolina Political Prosecutions.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 4.—Some of the press of this State are urging the importance of the Governor convening the General Assembly in extra session, for the purpose of making appropriations to meet the expenses of the defense in the political prosecutions to be begun about the middle of this month. The Governor to-day expressed his positive opposition to the movement, and considers the proposition unwise.

Destructive Fire.

MILWAUKEE, April 4.—The village of Ellington Junction, near Warsaw, Wis., is said to be almost entirely destroyed by fire. The wires are down and reports are meagre. Loss, $100,000.

POSTMASTER GENERAL.

Judge W. C. Gresham, of Indiana, the Lucky Man.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Judge W. C. Gresham, of Indiana, was to-day appointed Postmaster General. The appointment of Gresham creates general surprise. The general comments are that Gresham will make as capable an officer as any man not acquainted with the place, but that the appointment is not a strong one, politically. Indiana was already cared for with John C. New in a prominent place, and Ohio needed recognition from a political standpoint more than any other State. Some doubt is expressed whether Gresham will accept, as he already holds the position of District Judge, which is a life position, with $4,000 a year.

Ex-Governor Jenkins Dying.

ATLANTA, GA., April 4.—Ex-Governor Jenkins, who was ousted from office by the military authorities during reconstruction, is lying, as supposed, at the point of death. Great interest is felt in him on account of his record. He is a man of pure personal character.

HON. CARTER HARRISON was re-elected Mayor of Chicago.

GEN. GRANT has been elected president of the American Rifle Association.

The Ohio Legislature has indefinitely postponed the Compulsory Vaccination bill.

The Chicago bricklayers have ended their strike, the employers conceding the demand of $4.50 a day.

A bill which makes gambling felony has passed the Lower House of the Tennessee Legislature and will likely pass the Senate.

Penn. is to take a vote on May 19th on the appropriation of $100,000 to aid the Paris, Frankfort and Georgetown Railroad.

The Mayors of Kansas City, Cincinnati and Chicago are Kentuckians. Our people have a natural aptitude for governing cities.

The independent movement in Chicago politics has collapsed, and most of its leaders have returned to the Republican ranks, where they belong.

Maine is the only State likely to pass a prohibition amendment this year, most of the Western States having high license laws under consideration.

Governor BRADSHAW has gone to Arkansas on a short visit. Lieutenant Governor COTTELL has charge of the executive office during his absence.

It will cost Georgia $50,000 for the Legislature to meet this spring and count the vote for Governor, which will be necessary on account of the death of Governor Stephens.

The Wisconsin Senate has passed a memorial to Congress asking for the conditional repeal of the duty on lumber, provided the Canadian Parliament adopts similar reciprocal measures.

Private information has been received at Indianapolis that Judge W. G. Gresham, of that city, has been offered by the President the office of Postmaster General and that he will probably accept.

A subscription is being taken up in Richmond to defray the expenses of expected military organizations from North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, who will contest in the competitive drill at the Virginia State Fair.

The Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky says: "The full breadth of wheat was sown. Some damage was done by the fly; the present outlook is unfavorable, and the prospect of 20 per cent. below last year's crop, which was 10 per cent. the largest ever grown in the State."

The Canadian Minister of Customs has decided not to grant any modifications of regulations which would encourage United States whisky to come into Canada in bond. He has taken a most positive stand in the matter and as a result of this the Dominion Government has refused to concede to American distillers the privileges they have been asking.

On the subject of small farms, the New York Herald says: Texas has shown many signs of an intention to lend the Southern States in enterprise; but the last report from there is by far the most promising—it is that a number of owners of large estates have determined to cut up plantations into small farms and sell them on easy terms to actual settlers. Small farms mean high farming and populations, intelligent, stable, well-to-do communities. Many small farms in New York and New Jersey yield greater profits than an equal number of over-large plantations at the South, for the simple reason that on each one the labor is done mostly by the owner, and done thoroughly. There are parts of the South where for climate and sanitary reasons it would be useless to ask white farmers to settle; but much of the agricultural portion of Texas, like the higher ground of the other Southern States, is as healthy as any part of the North and offers to farmers the superior inducements of shorter winters, greater variety of crops and frequently better soil than they can find at the North. The Texas experiment, if managed with ordinary ability and honesty, will benefit every one concerned and the remainder of the South will do well to keep an eye on it.

SPECIAL despatches received in Chicago from all parts of the winter wheat-growing section are discouraging, the severe and continuously cold weather, and in some places the fly, having caused injury to the crops. In Ohio the crop is estimated at not more than 70 per cent. of that of last year, and in Illinois 75 per cent. The reports from Iowa, Kansas and Missouri are more favorable. In California the estimate is 75 per cent. of an average crop.

About the Ashland Tragedy.
From the Frankfort Yeoman.

We have a letter from a gentleman at Charleston, W. Va., which says: "You can tell Gov. Blackburn that no importance is due to a letter written from here by an amateur 'detective' who sets up a theory concerning the Ashland tragedy. It can be none other than Alf. W. Burnett. He is a young man, ambitious for distinction as a detective, and he feels keenly the treatment he received at the hands of the authorities at Ashland, who refused to employ him to 'work up' the case. That was the misnomer. I question if there is any one to be found in this region who doubts the guilt of the prisoners now in custody."

Catching Smelts in Lake Champlain.

Winter fishing is now being enjoyed by those who are fond of the sport. The lake at Burlington has just closed in, and the smelt-shoots have moved their little huts on runners out to the accustomed grounds. Modern improvements have made this sport one of the most enjoyable imaginable. Instead of kneeling in the cold mud beside a constantly freezing hole in the ice, the sportsman now sits in a comfortable little hut, and in his hand holds a rod, instead of a stick, and keeps warm with two or three fires set down through holes in the floor and connected with holes in the ice. He smokes and talks with a companion, and is as comfortable as a marmalade one sitting in his seat. The smelt-shoots are a very profitable business, and the fish are sold at a high price in the local markets. An attentive and persistent fisherman will make about as much out of his day's sport as a laborer who comes home sore and stiff at night with his hard-earned pittance. The men who sit in his hut and manuate the little lines is usually a dolly, hospitable sort of a fellow, and is perfectly willing that the blue-nosed skater should seek refuge occasionally in his cozy little house, and even permits him to handle one of the lines for a while. He has a chance to bring a young lady companion with him, the ancient fisherman becomes a model of gallantry. He has his black pipe under the stove, resigns his warm seat to the fair one, and places all his piscatorial resources at her command. It is pleasant to note the immense satisfaction with which he resigns to her the line upon which he has just detected a timid nibble, and when, following his directions, she hooks the unhappy fish and draws it up through the ice with a little scream of mingled terror and delight, his eyes shine with approbation and pleasure, and he feels as proud as did the Canadian woodsman who initiated the Princess Louise into the mysteries of salmon-fishing. But when he removes the struggling victim and coolly bites out its eyes with his teeth or a fresh bait, the situation becomes embarrassing in the extreme, and the easy but no longer possesses any attraction for the young skaters. They beat a precipitate retreat, leaving the hospitable proprietor in such a state of astonishment and perplexity that he sticks the fish's eye into his pipe and puts a slice of pig tobacco on the hook. There is such bewilderment in the memory of a pretty fish.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 4.—River 6 feet 7 inches and falling.
WHEELING, W. Va., April 4.—River 9 feet 9 inches and falling.
CINCINNATI, April 4.—River 42 feet 9 inches and stationary.
LOUISVILLE, April 4.—River 17 feet 6 inches in canal, and 16 feet 2 inches in chute. Falling.

Good Sleight in Canada.
MOUNT FOREST, Ont., April 4.—A train on the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway reached here last night, the first since March 5. The snow is still deep and sleighing is unimpaired.

Crushed by a Sand Bank.
NILES, O., April 4.—Charles Noemberger, of Lordstown, Mahoning county, was killed at a locality known as Salt Hill, by the eroding in of a bank from which he was getting sand. He leaves a family.

Fatal Affray Between Brothers-in-Law.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 4.—John Cox and Wm. Thomas, both white men, were brothers-in-law. Last night they met at the home of Duncan Cox, the father-in-law of William Thomas, and a family quarrel arose, in which John Cox shot and instantly killed William Thomas. Cox emptied both barrels of a shotgun at Thomas and lodged fifty-two deekshot in his body.

Smallpox at Vincennes, Ind.
VINCENNES, Ind., April 4.—The smallpox scare has been revived here by the announcement that Fred Case, a young man in the employ of the Ohio and Mississippi express at North Vernon, and who came home sick on Sunday, was down with the disease. His case is a very bad one, and it is feared that a wedding dress, which was carried from the Case residence an hour or two before the physician was called in, will spread the disease. The greatest excitement prevails.

"Pocket Burroughs" in the British Parliament.

"Pocket burroughs" derive their quaint appellation from the fact that the individual commanding their votes carries them, as it were, in his pocket. Not all the pocket burroughs, however, are under patriotic control; the purse of Plutus holding influence over a goodly number of them. It is a well-known fact that there are scores of them purchasable as any other commodity of the market can be bought up, lock, stock and barrel, and are so bought. The late commission of inquiry into contested elections gave ample evidence of this, having brought to light the astounding revelation that the voters of several such burroughs—not small ones either—were bribed, almost to a man. Many of them even boasted of the large sums they had received, after stigmatizing for, and chaffering over them, without thought of shame or qualm of conscience.

One would naturally expect that a candidate for Parliamentary honors would be required to give some proof of his fitness for Parliamentary duties. But in burroughs like these no such qualification is needed. With them, political capacity and knowledge of statesmanship—or, indeed, other knowledge of any useful kind—are the least and last things thought of. Money will make them take the walk and well the man of money knows it—feels a certain of entering Parliament, if he only pays the price, as he would of an open box in purchasing a ticket. It is simply a question of how much he is disposed to pay; and that he arranges with the electing agent, who in turn makes it square with the electors. There are always constituencies open to representatives of this kind, and who care for no other, and would not have any other. Nor does the candidate need to be resident among them or even have previous acquaintance with them. He may be a total stranger of unknown antecedents, brought from some distant part of the country—London or elsewhere—his first introduction to his constituency that is to be, given him by the local lawyer who acts as his electioneering agent, often only a few days before the election. But the lawyer himself has been previously made acquainted with his legislative capabilities by having heard the jingle of his gold. This communicated to the covetous constituency has a marvelous, almost magical, effect, and presto! the unknown Plutus, who may be the veriest adventurer, becomes one of the Senatorial grandees of the great British Empire, on which the sun never sets!

—People who suppose that Admiral Nicholson is called "The War Horse of the Navy" because he sent word to Arabi Pasha that if fired upon he would shoot back, are very much mistaken. The history of the title, as told in naval circles in Washington, is as follows: When a large and burly Lieutenant, young Nicholson was once in company where a term "hors d' combat" was used. Some one having asked what it meant, the future hero promptly and proudly replied: "A War Horse!" and "War Horse Nicholson" he was at once dubbed, and has been so styled ever since.—Chicago News.

—An Alabama editor confesses that he "has serious apprehensions" that baseball is about to be introduced into that State.—Boston Transcript.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.
THURSDAY EVE., APRIL 5, 1883.

The grave and reverend City Dads,
This very Thursday night,
Will solemnly convene to hold
At early candle light,
A chaff will be among them there
With pen and with stub,
To note the solemn wisdom of
Our city Ithaca Club.

BOY WANTED.

A smart, intelligent boy to learn the printing business. Apply at this office.

The city council will meet this evening.

Second street extension, which was badly worn during the winter, is being mended.

Alice Oates and company will present "Mascotte" at the Opera House this evening. Don't forget it.

Mr. Patrick Breen is the champion fence builder of East Maysville. He has lately done some very neat work there.

The man who has to move and can't get a house is in a quandary, and there are several such persons in town this week.

A fall of a substance resembling sulphur is reported to have taken place on three successive nights in the vicinity of Princeton, Ky.

Rev. A. N. Gillett will preach at the Christian Church to-night on the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday, and will administer the ordinance of immersion at the close of the discourse.

The readers of the BULLETIN are invited to give careful attention to the new advertisements printed elsewhere. It is a regular bargain directory as they will find when they go to the establishments named.

Charles Dinger, who is charged with assaulting a boy and using insulting language to a woman, was apprehended at the river landing yesterday by Deputy Marshal Wm. Dawson and night policeman Charles Dawson.

Mr. Wm. Brown, who has charge of W. B. Mathews & Co.'s tobacco hoghead manufactory, one day this week turned out sixty-three complete hogheads. With the force at his command, this was good work. They sell for $2 each.

A croquet of the late Hon. E. Ramsey Wing, of Kentucky, is under arrest at St. Louis, for killing a young man named Joseph Glenn, who formerly lived at Owensboro, in this State. The killing was the result of a quarrel about an abandoned woman.

Mr. R. Fickler, agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company in this city, by an arrangement made recently with the Brazil Mail Steamship Company, is able to give through freight rates to any point in South America. A schedule we have examined shows the rates to be very low.

The trotting track of the Bourbon Agricultural Association will be completed in about two weeks and work will then begin on the grand stand and other improvements. The grand stand is to have a seating capacity of 7,000 persons, and will be similar to that at Lexington or the one at Louisville.

The manufacturers of cigars in Maysville have been notified by order of the Cigar Makers' Union, that a strike will begin on the first of May for an additional one dollar a thousand on all grades of cigars. The tax reduction of $3 a thousand and on cigars goes into effect on that day, and the operatives think that a part of the reduction ought to be added to their earnings. The outlook is that the strike will be general over the country.

Sol Smith Russell, one of the popular comedians of the day, will appear at the Opera House on the 9th inst., as Tom Dilloway in "Edgewood Folks." The play has been rewritten and generally reconstructed. A good deal of irrelevant matter has been hewn out of it, and more bright comedy has been written in. The reconstruction effects better situations for Mr. Russell, brings him oftener on the scene, and introduces more naturally than before Sol Smith Russell's character sketches, impersonations and songs, in which he stands unrivalled on the temporary stage.

The Street Railway.

The subscription papers for the $20,000 first mortgage bonds are now ready and it is to be hoped the citizens and property holders of Maysville who are to be benefitted by this public improvement, will take the bonds without delay.

The present opportunity is the best the people will ever have to secure a street railway and if the chance is lost, it is doubtful if the road will ever be built. The matter cannot be delayed any longer and the people must make up their minds to subscribe within the next ten days, so that work can be begun in time to have the road in operation by next June. It should be remembered that unless $20,000 is subscribed there will be no street railway. The construction of the road will greatly advance in value all property in Maysville and in Chester, and everybody who can do so, ought, therefore, to subscribe as there is no risk of loss in taking these bonds. On the contrary they are certain to be a good investment. So let everybody come forward and at once take all the bonds they can, and thus secure the early completion of the railway. The bonds are in the hands of Messrs. W. S. Frank and L. W. Robertson, who will be glad to explain the project to all who feel inclined to aid the enterprise.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mrs. George C. Easton has recovered sufficiently to be able to go about the house.

Miss Lizzie Dye, who lived near Mayslick, died on the 4th inst. The funeral will take place to-day.

The venerable Dr. William R. Wood was on the street to-day. He bears his years remarkably well.

The following notice of Mr. Lewis Collins, who is a native of this city, is taken from the Courier-Journal:

Mr. Collins, who is the son of Richard H. Collins, Esq., of the bar of Kentucky, came to Louisville a young practitioner and has won friends and business by his energy, industry and capacity as a lawyer. He was handsomely complimented by the recent unanimous election by the city council for the third time to represent the city in the directory of the Louisville Gas Company. He also holds a position of honor in the Kentucky Sunday School Union—a member of the Executive Committee.

Barn Burned.

A barn belonging to Mrs. Mary Robinson, three and a half miles south of Mayslick, was destroyed by fire last night. Seven horses, three cows, two hogs, a reaper, a large crop of tobacco and various farming implements were burned, the loss amounting to several thousand dollars. The cause of the fire is not known.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Miss Mary H. Cushman, an exceedingly winsome young lady, has returned from her trip, where she had been visiting, Hon. David Gibson, of Clinton.

Some wives, when they think their husbands, remain out after lodge hours, have their wits about them, by putting the gas out and leaving the tub on the hot stoves. This helps them to sleep their angel wives, before saying their prayers.

"Come to me to dream love" a lighthearted young lady sang with such dreamy effect, that her sweetheart jumped up and exclaimed—but come to me in person, love, is the most agreeable way.

Miss Creighbaum and her attractive friend Miss Mackenzie, created quite a confusion among mazelike hearts.

Report says, a certain blonde gentleman has at last capitulated by his persuasive power a dashing belle of Germantown.

Mrs. G. Wheeler has moved to Aberdeen, and has one of the most attractive residences on Second street.

Mr. Palmer has opened his grocery in such a flourishing manner that it is equaled by none. Mr. Palmer's gentlemanly and courteous manners have made him a general favorite.

Miss Etta Mann, a handsome young lady of Lexington, Ky., is visiting relatives at this place.

Monday being election day our streets were thronged creating a commotion that it bewildered the natives. One old gentleman who had such a difficult time in crossing the street remarked, "It beats Broadway N. Y."

Report says, the Misses Wheelers are doubly welcomed back to Aberdeen, as their musical capabilities are a pleasing acquisition to the town.

Why such needless curiosity among so many concerning the young lady, who keeps a handsome Maysville gentleman posted as to news.

We were informed by a strawberry blonde, that Pittsburg ladies take the palm for beauty. We have heard of one near by, who has received sufficient homage to convince us of the fact.

Dorsey Relates Garfield's Promise to Bounce James and McVeagh.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Star-route surprises will never end. The prosecution concluded the cross-examination of Dorsey last night, whereas everybody was giving them all the week. At one or two places the testimony grew interesting, though for the most part it was of a dry, routine character, consisting of minute details, the force of which is only perceptible to the attorneys, and often enough not to them save with a large microscope.

For instance, the audience was all attention when Dorsey told Miss Springman was appointed to a clerkship in one of the departments in 1881, on his recommendation, and how he went to his ranch in Mexico before the appointment was made out, and Rordell got it and took it to her, and afterward how this creature wrote vile letters to her, which letters were in the possession of the witness. The Government didn't call for them. The interview with Rordell at the Albemarle Hotel, New York, was then taken up, and led to Dorsey's visit here, and the affidavit Rordell made, denying what he had told James and McVeagh. The affidavit was very hard on James and McVeagh. Dorsey went on to say that if he had written it, "there would have been some English in it." Merrick asked him what he meant. Dorsey replied in the vigorous manner he employs when thoroughly in earnest, that James and McVeagh were two dirty scoundrels who disgraced the office they held and the administration that put them in office. He added that if Garfield had been shot a week later both of these persons would have been kicked out of their offices in contempt and disgrace, and this he (Garfield) had promised Dorsey to do, in the presence of Ingersoll. During the delivery of the reminiscences of the past that is so far back and yet so near, the silence in the court-room was almost painful. None of the counsel bethought him to object, and the Court was equally wrapped up in the matter. Colonel Bliss forgot his usual sneering smile, and sat with a face paler than usual and a set mouth, looking intently into the face of the man on whom he had so abjectly fawned in his day of power, and, oblivious to time, or place, or change of circumstances, the vulgar Mephistophiles of the New York bar, and politics dropped his mask and nodded acquiescence as the cold truth fell in frozen facts from Dorsey's lips in earnest tone and measured voice. Colonel Bliss corroborated the ex-Senator by thus punctuating his story by confirmatory nods. Dorsey quit talking. Bliss looked quickly around as it started, and resumed his sneering mask. Merrick hastily took up the dropped thread of his examination, and things went on as usual again. It is supposed that John W. Dorsey will go on to-morrow.

RURDELL DENOUNCED.

Judge Wilshire, Him Late Counsel, pronounced him an "unfortunate scoundrel."

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Judge Wilshire accused Rordell, in an interview today, of having been in numerous crimes. Among other things in present of his late client he said: "He is one of the most treacherous men I ever met. He fooled me. I had heard that he was fooling me. Dorsey was fooled in him, for he told me that Rordell was fooling me, but I could not believe it. I told him finally what I had heard, and thought I had a right, as his attorney, to know if it was so. He swore by a God that was good and bad that it was true; that he had never met one of the Government Counsel, or anybody connected with the Government in consultation. At one time it was published in the Star that he was going to turn on the defendants. I called his attention to the publication, and he denied it most emphatically. I then suggested to him the propriety of a denial through the same channel. He agreed to it, and I, in order to have it right, wrote the cards denying the story. No one was more surprised than I was when Rordell did as he did. He is the most infamous scoundrel I ever had anything to do with."

The Jeannette Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—James H. Bartlett, a fireman on the ill-fated and renowned Arctic cruiser Jeannette, and the last of the four late arrivals from Siberia, was examined by the Jeannette Board to-day, but nothing new was disclosed. This practically closes the inquiry. Dr. B. F. Collins, of Minneapolis, who lost a brother on the Jeannette has wired the Judge Advocate that he has mailed a series of questions he wishes propounded Bartlett before the inquiry is given the coup de grace, relative to the treatment of the deceased Collins by Captain De Long, also perished, but Judge Advocate Walnwright says the investigation is at an end so far as any developments are concerned, and intimates that the report to be rendered will exonerate everybody upon whom the slightest suspicion rests.

AMATEUR PRIZE FIGHT.

The Stopping Didn't Amount to Much, but One of the Boys Fell Down and Broke His Neck.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 4.—A fatal prize fight occurred at Dubois, a small town in the heart of the lumber region in Jefferson county, about ninety miles from Pittsburg. It seems Mike McLaughlin and Maria Linksky, both boys, not more than eighteen years old, quarreled and agreed to settle the dispute according to prize-ring rules. The fight came off after working hours last evening, and was witnessed by a large party of pugilistic admirers. The first round or two were of but little interest, the antagonists being pretty evenly matched. The third round is said to have been a spirited one, and heavy blows were in favor of Linksky, but McLaughlin seemed to be better scioned. The fourth round brought the claret from both, but with no disadvantage to either. In the fifth round both came to the scratch with no little vim, and the punishment was about evenly divided. In the sixth round both felt somewhat worse of the wear, and showed like porpoises. Considerable sparring was indulged in, when Linksky accidentally fell, his chin striking a root. His neck was broken, and he expired almost instantly. McLaughlin surrendered himself to the authorities.

PETER COOPER DEAD.

Short Sketch of the Eventful Career of the Well Known Philanthropist.

New York, April 4.—Peter Cooper died at half-past three o'clock this morning of pneumonia. In his last moments Mr. Cooper was attended by Dr. J. J. Hull, the family physician, and Dr. Rufus P. Lincoln. About ten days ago he contracted a severe cold, with a tendency toward pneumonia. He grew better, however, and last Saturday went out for a walk and came back exhausted and took to his bed, which he never left.

Ex-Mayor Edward Cooper and Mrs. Abraham S. Hewitt were with him when he breathed his last. Mr. Cooper's wife, who was Miss Sarah Bedell, of Hempstead, L. I., and whom he married in 1813, died in 1869.

Peter Cooper was born in New York in 1791, his parents being in humble circumstances. He was obliged to pick up an education as best he could. At seventeen he was an apprentice at coach making. His first start towards a fortune was by the invention of an improvement in machines for shearing cloth during the war of 1812-15. He then went into the manufacture of cabinet ware, afterwards into the grocery business, and finally in the manufacture of glue and isinglass, in which business he remained for over half a century, accumulating a handsome fortune. In 1830 he built works for the manufacture of iron, and afterward a rolling and wire mill in New York. In 1845 he had a rolling mill for making railroad bars at Trenton, N. J. At Baltimore, in 1830, he designated and built the first locomotive engine constructed in America, operating it on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. For eighteen years he was President of the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company. He also experimented successfully in a project for the best propelling power for boats on the Erie Canal, using the endless chain. Always interested in his native city, he was chosen to the Board of Assistants and of Aldermen. He was also prominent in the establishment of the old Public School Society. He accomplished the great object of his life, the establishment of an institution, the Cooper Union, for free education. In 1854 he laid the corner-stone of a large building on Third and Fourth avenues in New York, devoted to art and science. This institution now counts over 2,000 pupils per year. It has a school of art for women, a free school of telegraphy for young women, lecture rooms, reading rooms, and a library of over 10,000 volumes. The annual expense of this institution is about $50,000. In 1879 Mr. Cooper added another story to this building.

Mr. Cooper was a candidate for President of the United States, on the Greenback Labor ticket in 1876.

An Old Man to Hang.

HELENA, MONT., April 4.—Henry Fuhrmann has been sentenced to be hanged at Helena, May 2, for the murder of his son-in-law, Jacob Kensch. Fuhrmann is seventy years old.
